

60 Second Radio Spots

Your local radio station will have sound tracks for sound effects and background music that can be used with these scripts. If you choose to have background music, we suggest something light. If the music is too loud or if it is too complex, your message will suffer.

Ship where you Shop

Radio - :60

(Read: lighthearted yet very credible)

Someone once said, "Getting there is half the fun!" Obviously, "someone" was never a postal package in transit. A package marked San Diego can mysteriously wind up in San Juan. Or a box bound for Paris, Texas could inexplicably show up in... right – you guessed it. The long and short of it is this - where you START will often determine where you finish. So, when you want to finish right, make sure you start right – by shipping where you shop at (insert store name)! They ship via UPS, so you get fast, accurate shipping. And, best of all, you'll pay less doing it! (Insert store name) offers free package tracking and no cost for insurance on the first $100 of declared value – both are additional costs at the post office. Why stand in long lines at the post office when you can "Ship where you Shop" and find great values everyday! (Insert store name) – (locator).
